The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 3, 5, 6, 12-16, and 25-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mizuno in view of Hardikar et al. for the reasons explained in the previous Office actions.

Claims 10, 11, and 20-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mizuno in view of Hardikar and Gallarda for the reasons explained in the previous Office actions.

Applicant's arguments filed July 31, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant appears to admit that both Mizuno and Hardikar et al. display both images of defects and wafer maps showing the locations of defects, but argues that neither reference suggests displaying both the wafer map and a selected one of the stored actual images of defect candidates on the same screen. Instead, they both display the wafer map and defect image on separate screens. It is this feature of displaying both the wafer map and defect image on the same screen that applicant points to in order to distinguish the claimed invention over the prior art. However, this is merely a change in the format in which the images are displayed and has no functional significance since no additional information about the wafer being inspected is generated. Since both Mizuno and Hardikar et al. teach to display both a wafer map and defect images, it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to arrange these displays in any format that such a person found to be convenient, including on the same screen.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
